The CISA review course is designed to help candidates pass the exam. The Saturday review classes are developed by ISACA and presented by members of the chapter that are experts in their respective fields. These instructors bring real world experience and examples to the classroom.

The CISA Review Technical Information Manual will not be provided to attendees for the Saturday review classes. It is recommended that each CISA candidate obtain a copy of this manual to obtain the full benefit from this review class. This review class is designed to supplement the study programs followed by CISA review candidates. This course is a summary review of each core CISA domains and assumes that the CISA candidates have completed their own self study program over each CISA domain section prior to attending each session.
