

INFORMATION SECURITY MANAGEMENT

February 18, 2010

12-12:30 P.M. Check-In

2:15 P.M. Break

12:30 P.M. Lunch

2:30 P.M. Governance Risk and Compliance: A Comprehensive Model

Jess Walpole

1:30 P.M. Diebold's Enterprise Security Model
Scott Angelo

The best security programs are those that have implemented a holistic approach to securing assets while creating a culture within the company that makes security an instinctive part of everybody's job. Given today's threat landscape, implementing a global security program is probably one of the most challenging endeavors a chief security officer (CSO) will endure throughout his or her career. Join Scott Angelo and the enterprise security team of Diebold, Incorporated for an exciting discussion that explains where to begin, how to decide what is right for your unique organization and the challenges of implementing a security program.

It's never the risk that causes damage or creates opportunities – it's how we respond...before, during and after. So how do we manage IT risks in a dynamic world? A comprehensive and cross functional Governance Risk and Compliance model is critical to businesses serious about managing risks and addressing the evolving threat landscape.

3:15 PM Panel Discussion

Question and answer session with the Diebold Enterprise Security team.

4-5:00P.M. Cocktails/Networking

Simplifying Enterprise Security

Scott Angelo, vice president and chief security officer, is responsible for direction and management of Diebold's enterprise security program, including global governance, risk and compliance activities.

Jess Walpole, director, enterprise governance and compliance is responsible for providing security oversight and advisory services on a global scale for Diebold, Incorporated.

Diebold Enterprise Security has been named a finalist in the 2010 SC Awards for outstanding achievement in information technology (IT) security, "Best Security Team" category.

WHERE: Harry's Steakhouse
5664 Brecksville Rd.
Independence, OH 44131

REGISTRATION: www.acteva.com/go/neoisaca

